Litter to Glitter

Littering is an important issue and negatively affects the environment in various amounts of ways. A new program called Litter to Glitter will hold monthly trash cleanups in neighborhood streets. This will prevent even the littlest pieces of trash from getting into our storm drains and cause flooding and other environmental issues.

Going Green

My main objective for the project is to bring awareness to the impact of landfills across the globe. The project was structured as a two-year initiative with the first initiative focused on ideation and building the foundations. The second year focused on building a website and working with local media to spread awareness.
